Each year, more-and-more California HR professionals rely on Employers Group's information-packed, one-day Workplace & Employment Law Update (WELU). The event covers the issues, laws, and practices California businesses need to know about so they prepare for upcoming year. Unlike other updates, Employers Group delivers its WELU before the new year so HR and business leaders have time to adequately handle compliance complexities. Plus, EG's program also covers timely workplace issues that impact how companies do business. Because the event includes timely content, breakout sessions and other content-related items will be released later this summer. The Los Angeles and San Francisco events will be the "Best of WELU," showcasing the most popular content from Anaheim, Ontario, San Diego and Burbank in a one-room event without the need to move to breakout sessions.
